IADC WELL CONTROL ACCREDITATION PROGRAM

BULLETIN 01-04

December 2001

This bulletin is issued to all schools that are accredited or are now in the process of completing an Application for Accreditation.

LOST WELLCAP CERTIFICATES

A shipment of 50 WellCAP certificates were lost by a delivery service on 29 October 2001. The delivery service searched both Rio de Janeiro and Macae warehouses in Brazil. However, they were not able to locate the missing WellCAP Certificates. The certificates were in transit to a WellCAP school in Campos, Rio de Janeiro when the loss occurred. Although the delivery service is investigating the incident, the shipment has not been recovered and is considered to be lost.

This is the second shipment of WellCAP Certificates that have been lost in transit to Brazil. As in the previous incident (see Bulletin 01-03) IADC promptly sent a replacement shipment to the school, and the lost certificates have been marked as invalid in the IADC accreditation database. The certificates were in English and numbered A210853 through A210902.

- BULLETIN 01-03 – STOLEN WellCAP Certificates – English A209903 through A209952
- BULLETIN 01-04 – LOST WellCAP Certificates – English A210853 through A210902

IADC requests all schools to pass this information to their customers and other industry contacts. IADC urges contractors and operators to be vigilant in observing certificate numbers should an attempt be made to use any of the stolen certificates.

Anyone observing a certificate with one of the above numbers is requested to contact IADC immediately via phone or fax, or e-mail to wellcap@iadc.org.
