

SHARE A WELL CONTROL “LESSON LEARNED”

Directions: If you have a lesson learned that you are willing to share with the Well Control Committee, please put the general information about the event below. Feel free to share any event relevant to well control, including those that had a “positive” outcome. There is no need to provide company name or specific location. These lessons learned may also be presented by another member in order to maintain the anonymity of the member and his or her company.

Type of lesson learned (e.g., response to a kick, maintenance of well control equipment):

Description of Event (include rig type, location, and other relevant information):

Cause of Event:

What We Learned:

Would you prefer to have the Committee Chair present this lesson for you (anonymously)? YES NO

Are you willing to permit archiving of this lesson by IADC? YES NO

If you are willing to present the Lesson Learned, you may be contacted before the next meeting. For more information or to provide a comment, email Brenda Kelly, IADC Well Control Committee staff liaison, at brenda.kelly@iadc.org.